SPECIAL OFFER

of Strong, Established Plants

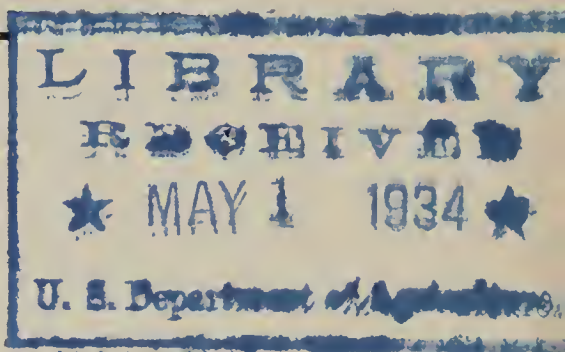

We respectfully submit this pamphlet in an endeavor to facilitate the selection of Orchids by type rather than by the particular varietal name which, after all, means so little in many cases. For example, Laeliocattleyas Arturo, Callistoglossa, Dominiana, Nella and a number of others have essentially the same kind of flowers whose differences are slight and only distinguished by those thoroughly acquainted with the various types. Their principal variation is in the blooming season, and is an important point to consider.

We have listed ten groups of the more popular types and have given a few of the particular varieties included in each as a guide. Inquiries regarding varieties not listed will be given our prompt attention. All plants offered are in a strong, healthy condition and have already flowered except where indicated.

A cordial invitation is extended to visit our greenhouses at all times.
